WILL CELEBRATE FIRST LOT SALE

THURSDAY, JUNE 15, IS SEVENTIETH ANNIVERSARY

CLOSE OF BRILLIANT WEEK IN MARYVILLE

Day Will Be Civic Enterprise With Attractions of Many Kinds Under Commercial Club Auspices

One month from today Maryville will celebrate the recording of the sale of the first town lot of Maryville. That date, June 15, will be the seventieth anniversary of that sale. The lot was lot 4, block 9, of the original town.

The celebration was decided upon by the directors of the Commercial club and the arrangements are left in hands of the entertainment committee of that organization. Ed Keck is chairman and H. L. Raines and Lawrence Schumacher are members of this committee.

The day will be purely a civic celebration and no sales in any concerted way will be offered by the Maryville merchants. This day will close a big week in Maryville with the Normal commencement, the anniversary celebration of the completion of the Normal's tenth year, and the Shakespeare pageant by the seniors.

The plans were discussed at the Commercial club luncheon again today and the various attractions and arrangements will be announced in a few days by the committee. The Fourth of July will not be celebrated in any civic way here, following the usual custom of leaving this to the smaller towns of the county.

Lot Now Empire Theatre

The lot whose sale was first recorded and the celebration of which will be held now is the size of the building housing the Empire theatre, the commercial club offices and the electric light office. It was bought by Amos Graham.

Maryville got its name from Mrs. Mary House Graham, wife of the purchaser of the lot. Mrs. K. R. Malotte of this city is a granddaughter of the woman for whom the town was named. A tablet in memory of Mrs. Graham is upon the front wall of the Baptist church, of which she was a member all her life.

The sale of the lot was made by Thomas Baker, commissioner of Nodaway county. The price was $5.25. It is probable that the present owner, Richard Kuchs, would not place a price on the land now. Its value is several thousand dollars, no doubt.

The county history shows that the first county court appointed by the governor until a new court should be elected named Thomas Baker as county commissioner and authorized him to sell town lots on the present site of Maryville.

The record says that the meeting of the court was held "near the well on the I. N. Prather farm." The lot was just across the street from the first courthouse, which stood where the furniture store of Price & McNeal now is located.

BERT COOPER TO JEFF CITY

County Superintendent at Convention of School Men—Oakerson to Return With Him

County Superintendent Bert Cooper left yesterday for Jefferson City, where he will spend this week attending the eighth annual convention of the county school superintendents of Missouri. Attendance is required by law.

Prof. W. M. Oakerson, former county superintendent and now chief clerk in the state department of education, will return with Mr. Cooper and will attend the following rural graduations: Hughes township at Graham, May 22; Jackson township at Ravenwood, May 23; Hopkins township at Hopkins, May 24; Independence township at Gaynor, night of May 27; Polk township at Maryville, afternoon of May 27.

BURRIS ON BIG COMMITTEE

Maryville Man Highly Honored by General Conference by Place on "Union" Committee

A new and greater honor has been given Dr. W. F. Burris of this city in the general conference of the Methodist church. He was made a member of the committee to consider the proposition of the M. E Church South looking toward organic union.

Two bishops and thirteen other delegates are on the committee with Dr. Burris, who is district superintendent of the Maryville district. The matter of union of the two great branches of Methodism is the most important matter before the conference in popular interest at least.

15 1-2 AT TRENTON

EUGENE YEHLE AND JAMES HALASEY PLACED

WATCHED STATE MEET

Maryville Track Fans Pleased With Comparison of Records—Simpson Still Starring

Maryville high school athletes got 15½ points Saturday in the track meet at Trenton. The events were postponed from Friday on account of the rain. Eugene Yehle got 12½ of the points and James Halasey the other three.

Yehle got second in the pole vault, 100 and 220 dashes; tied for second in the high jump, and got third in the 50-yard dash. Halasey got fourth in the quarter, broad jump and 50-yard dash. Fairfield, Ia., won the meet. Burrill of Trenton won the individual cup.

Eugene Yehle would have placed in the high hurdles and thereby have won the individual cup if he had not slipped and fallen as he started to take one of the hurdles. Myron Baker and Claude Glass were the other Maryville entries.

Maryville track fans watched the state high school meet at Columbia Saturday with a good deal of interest, desiring to compare the meet with the Northwest high school here. Castle of St. Joseph won a fourth place for his team by taking first in the 100-yard dash, 220-yard hurdles and the broad jump.

Many of the records here May 6 were better than at the state meet Saturday, both in time and distance. Stone of Ridgeway and Jones of Chillicothe made points for their schools and were the only men entered here who placed in the state meet.

Simpson Hits Record Again

Missouri outclassed Kansas in the annual outdoor meet on Rollins Field at Columbia Saturday, winning, 68 to 41. The Tigers took eight firsts, Simpson taking five of them. The Jayhawkers took four events for the five-point count.

Simpson again made his world's record time of 14 4-5 seconds in the 120-yard hurdles. He also finished first in the broad jump, the 100-yard dash, the low hurdles and the 220-yard dash. He broke the Missouri Valley Conference record by broad jumping 23 feet 6½ inches.

Earl Thomson of the University of Southern California tied Saturday the new world's record of 14 4-5 seconds set in the 120-yard hurdles May 6 by Bob Simpson of the University.

TWO GAMES THIS WEEK

M. H. S. Meets Savannah and Normal vs. Missouri Wesleyan

Maryville baseball fans will get a chance at two games in succession this week if all goes well with the weather. Savannah will come tomorrow afternoon for a return game with the Maryville high school, having lost on their home grounds, 3 to 1 in eleven innings. Missouri Wesleyan is scheduled for a game Wednesday afternoon on Normal field with the Bearcats.

LIGHTNING KILLS

HARRY WELLS, 20 YEARS OLD, STRUCK NEAR HOPKINS

UNDER TREE IN ORCHARD

Father and Brother, Helping Him Save Chickens, Unhurt by Bolt —Funeral Tomorrow

Harry Wells was struck by lightning and instantly killed yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, while helping his father, William Wells, and brother Ross, put up the chickens in the orchard near his home, three miles west of Hopkins.

A hard shower came up and fearing the young chickens would drown they went to the orchard to put them in the coops. He was about four rods from his father and brother when the lightning struck him. He fell to the ground with his hand in his pocket just as he was standing under a tree. The father and brother were blinded for a minute by the bolt but were not stunned.

They went to him as soon as possible but life was extinct. He was 20 years old.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Wells, two brothers, Ross and Harlan, and a sister, Mrs. Tim Butts, who lives near there.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Christian church at Hopkins at 2 o'clock. The Rev. D. W. Griffith, pastor of the Baptist church, will conduct the services. Burial will be in the Hopkins cemetery.

Little change was noted today in the condition of Allen Burks, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Burks of Pickering, who was struck by lightning Saturday morning.

STREET CLEANING PLANS

CITY OFFICIALS AND OTHERS DISCUSS IMPROVEMENTS

Private Subscriptions Will Be Sought for Rounding Normal Entrance at Fourth and Dunn

Plans for cleaning the streets were discussed Saturday night by Mayor Robey, the members of the street committee, Roy Martin, L. L. Maier and Ed M. Dragoo; George Robb Ellison and W. R. Jackson from the Commercial club; and President Ira Richardson of the Normal.

The plan is to use the street flusher, starting at 11 o'clock at night. Then the next morning to haul the refuse away. The pipes of the flusher will be fixed so as it will throw the water down the street instead of over on the sidewalks.

Charles Baker has been employed to do this work at $75 a month and he is required to keep the flusher in condition and to pay for the gasoline. The merchants will be asked to subscribe the same amount as they did last year for this purpose.

Mr. Richardson and the members of the conference discussed the widening of the corner of Dunn street and Normal avenue so as to have a rounded corner. No action was taken but it was thought the work could be done much cheaper than the estimate that was made last week of $447. As the city finances are so that the city cannot pay for the work, subscriptions will be taken up from the citizens.

Mr. and Mrs. George Aux and son, George Wallace, arrived last evening from Greely, Col., and will be the guests of Mrs. Aux's mother, Mrs. H. V. Sheridan.

K. of P. Attention

There will be a luncheon and smoker following the meeting of Tancred Lodge, No. 84 Tuesday night. Every member is urged to be present.

2 TIMES OF ADVICE

WHEN WE ARE GRADUATED AND MARRIED.

PAUL'S EXHORTING BEST

The Rev. Holliday in Baccalaureate Sermon Urges M. H. S. Graduates to Become Sacrifices

"We get advice at two times in our lives at least," said the Rev. R. C. Holliday, pastor of the Buchanan Street Methodist church, in the baccalaureate sermon of the Maryville high school last night at the Baptist church. "Those two times are upon begin graduated and upon being married.

"The first time the advice is solicited; all advice to newly-weds, however, is purely gratis and unsought. But the members of senior classes always ask for a commencement address and a baccalaureate sermon in order to be advised."

Mr. Holliday took as his text the passage in Romans 12:1 where Paul exhorts his readers to present their bodies a living sacrifice wholly acceptable unto God which is their reasonable service. His subject was "The Investment of a Life."

"Every person enters life a millionaire," he said. "We begin as a millionaire in power, energy, strength, optimism and other advantages and it is our duty to invest these 'funds' of life where the interest-returns will be the greatest.

"The great Talmage, on hearing a youth complain that he was not equipped for life, told him to go read up on the wonders of the human body and then never to complain again of any lack of equipment."

Three Attitudes Toward the Body

The speaker then told of the three attitudes toward the body. The Greeks worshipped strength and beauty; the ascetics and monks sought ways to despise and deny the body, but the Christian presents his body as a living sacrifice for the use of God and the world.

Mr. Holliday also said that the word sacrifice is often misunderstood. He used the examples of the tree cut from the forest to make the man-o-war and the stone chiselled from the quarry to make a great building to show that a thing sacrificed is not something wasted.

"The third thing that we need to note in the Apostle's exhortation, "continued the preacher, "is that the sacrifice must be acceptable. Therefore, the need for the greatest preparation possible. I trust that none of you consider your education complete.

"The great majority of the unemployed are the untrained. The great ideal of us all should be to be equipped so that God can use us most completely. Some one has said that God gave himself for us, is giving himself to us and is constantly seeking to give himself through us to the world."

The thirty seniors sat in a reserved section of the church with the faculty and parents and friends of the graduates. The church was crowded although the weather was threatening.

SHOT PELICAN YESTERDAY

Wayne Judah and S. A. Ditto Showing Large Bird Today—8 Ft. 7 In. Tip to Tip of Wings

A pelican shot by S. A. Ditto and Wayne Judah drew big crowds on the streets this morning. Two of the "wonderful" birds were seen in the water on Mr. Judah's farm east of the fair grounds yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Ditto slipped up close to the birds by keeping behind a horse. He was able to bring one down with his shotgun when the big white creatures rose. The distance from tip to tip of the wings in 8 feet 7 inches.

Its feet were webbed and it had the large 15-inch bill with the pouch beneath with which it can "eat enough meat to last it a week." Mr. Judah will probably have the bird mounted.

H. S. WAR DECLARED

PLACING OF SENIOR PENNANTS STARTS CLASS SCRAP

TRUCE UNTIL TONIGHT

Six Juniors Broke Protocol and Senior Girls Violated "Red Cross," So Feeling Is High

Residents of Maryville will believe that they are living in Mexico before 10 o'clock tonight if the advance indications are to be taken at their face value. During the night a "Seniors 1916" pennant was placed in one of the highest trees on the school yard and across the front of the office building of Dr. H. S. Rowlett.

A large 30-foot bill board had also been leased and the same letters were blazoned across this in bold lettering of red on a white background. Daylight found most of the senior class of the Maryville high school grouped around their colors to protect them.

By 7:30 the juniors had collected in sufficient force to attack the seniors defending the flag on the school ground. Here the seniors felt the force of the division of forces. They were all tied up. Then the Freshmen gathered to the rescue of the seniors.

While the Freshman-Junior scrap was in progress, the senior girls broke all the Red Cross rules of established warfare and released their boy classmates. A general free-for-all was in progress when Superintendent W. M. Westbrook arrived. He stopped the fighting and acted as a peace mediator.

An agreement, protocol or truce was then entered into to leave things stand as they were without hostilities until tonight at 8 o'clock so that school work would not be interfered with. The flag already had been removed from the tree but the billboard was not molested, the juniors evidently being scared off by the publishing of the city ordinance in The Democrat-Forum Saturday with reference to the defacing of property.

Feeling is high among the belligerents. The juniors feel that the senior girls did wrong in untying the boys. The seniors were thrown into a great rage and have put Virgil Rathbun, Paul Pickens, Clarence Cook, Russell Woodward, Berney Harris Jr. and Emmet Bartram down as "men without honor," because they removed the uptown flag just after dinner, thus violating the truce.

Following the lead of the Freshmen the Sophomores have lined up in an alliance with the Juniors. A full fledged European war therefore may result. Fatalities are the only things which are not expected.

NORMAL'S ENTRIES

STATE COLLEGE TRACK MEET AT TARKIO THIS WEEK

WILL ENTER TENNIS TOO

Lee Scarlett and Ralph McClintock Are Men Upon Whom Green and White Hopes Depend

The names of the Normal entries in the state track and field meet at Tarkio next Thursday and Friday were announced today by Walter Hanson, director of athletics and coach of that branch of sport.

Lee Scarlett and Ralph McClintock are the men upon whom the green and white have placed their hopes. Several other new men are among the entries, however, whose work is of the dark horse variety. The entries for the events are:

100-yard dash—Verne Pickens, N. C. Wagers, Ralph McClintock, Virgil Lyle.

120-yard hurdles—Lee Scarlett and Wagers.

220-yard hurdles—Wagers, Scarlett and Lyle.

220-yard dash—Lyle, McClintock and G. S. Mercer.

Pole Vault—Scarlett and Paul Wilson.

Discus—Scarlett and Thomas Hickman.

High and broad jumps—Scarlett.

440-yard dash and half mile—McClintock.

No entries in mile, two-mile or mile-relay.

Will Enter Tennis Meet.

The tennis tournaments between all the colleges will be held Thursday afternoon. A meeting of the representatives of the colleges will be held Thursday night. The preliminaries will be held Friday morning and the finals in the afternoon.

Harold Staples and Paul Wilson are entered in the singles and Staples, Wilson, Scarlett and Paul Powell are entered in the doubles for tennis. It seems probable that Staples will be sent into the singles competition and Staples and Powell or Wilson into the doubles.

Mrs. Arthur Leet, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Le Grand Gann and other relatives here, left today for her home in Bedford.

C. W. Eaton and J. M. Carter were the Nodaway shippers on the St. Joseph market Saturday.

NO INTERVENTION IN MEXICO SOON

POLITICAL REASONS IN WASHINGTON GIVEN

LANSING OPTIMISTIC AT SCOTT'S REPORT

Pershing Sends Wireless Message That His Forces Are Not in Danger

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, May 15.—There will be no complete intervention in Mexico for several weeks, if at all. This is the information which comes from official sources today.

Various reasons are cited but all agree that the time is inopportune inasmuch as a serious effort is being made to prevent it becoming a Democratic campaign issue. The Republicans will refuse to force the issue until the army conference bill is made a law.

Scott arrived in Washington this morning from El Paso and went into an immediate conference. After the meeting, the secretary of state said that he believed that Scott's diplomacy has averted a crisis.

Pershing Says "No Danger."

Columbus, May 15.—Radiograms announce the arrival of General Pershing at the advance base on a tour of inspection. Pershing practically denied reports that his forces are in a precarious position and in danger of attack and also denied that there is any movement toward the border or that one is contemplated.

Pursuing Without Provisions

El Paso, May 15.—Langhorn's cavalry are Pursuing the Great Bend raiders marching straight into Mexico and are a hundred miles from the border ignoring the difficulty of getting provisions and the fact that the troops are fully a day's march ahead supporting the column under Sibley.

SPANISH KING LEADS IN RELIEF

GREAT CHARITY WORK STARTED ACCIDENTALLY

FINDS LOVED ONES AMONG BELLIGERENTS

Thousands of Letters Asking for Aid Are Being Answered by Spain's Monarch

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

London, May 15.—Describing the great work of relieving some of the suffering and anxiety of the war which is being carried out by King Alfonso of Spain, an Englishwoman writes from Madrid.

"The Royal Palace of Madrid has been the scene of many strange events in the course of its chequered history and today something is happening there which you may not, indeed, arrest the attention of the historian, but which will leave a lasting impression in many a home throughout the length and breadth of Europe.

"One day, a year or so ago, a despairing mother wrote to King Alfonso imploring his help to find her missing soldier son. The king made inquiries through his ambassador in Berlin, and the missing son was found. The good deed could not be hid, and letters began to arrive from all the belligerent nations and in many languages imploring his majesty's aid in some sorrowful quest. The king, with his habitual generosity, undertook the work of mercy with a right good will and no small success, and the flood of correspondence greatly increased.

"In the north-east corner of the Palace, under the direction of Don Emilio de Torres, the king's private secretary, an office has been organized which, from small beginnings, is ever assuming larger proportions.

"Spain is charged with the interests of all the allied nations except England, both in Berlin and Vienna, and with the interests of Austria in Rome.

No Two Letters Alike.

"No two letters are alike. The petition may refer to some officer or soldier of one of the allied armies last heard of on any field of battle from Flanders to the Bukowina, from the Baltic to Mesopotamia; to a missing family in the occupied provinces of France or Belgium; to a wounded soldier to be released, or a condemned civilian to be reprieved.

"It may ask for news of a long lost child or petition for a marriage by proxy, it may be signed by the greatest lady in the land or by the humblest cottager, all receive equal attention.

"Each letter is docketed, indexed, and filed according to the subject matter and the country of origin, and acknowledged by return of post. The request is then forwarded with full particulars to Senor Pole de Bernabe, the Spanish ambassador in Berlin, or to Senor Castro de Casalez in Vienna, and through them to the German or Austrian governments.

"The reply, as soon as received, is conveyed in a tactfully worded letter to the inquirer, often anticipated by a telegram if the news is good and accompanied if bad by an expression of the king's personal condolence; in this case the bad news is conveyed through the priest or mayor of the parish, so that it may be broken gently and opportunely.

"Some idea of the extent of the work may be gathered from the fact that nearly 200,000 letters have already been dealt with from France alone, while the postal and telegraphic expenses are said to have amounted in two months to about $3,000

Even Finds the English.

"As English interests in Berlin are in the hands of the American ambassador, etiquette requires that inquiries relating to British subjects should be made through him alone, but, whether owing to a misunderstanding or to the strong attraction exercised by the chivalrous character of the King of Spain upon all those in distress, letters soon begin to arrive from England also.

When it was suggested that his Majesty might well be excused from accepting this additional burden he replied: 'Not at all, I am colonel of a British regiment; they are all my comrades in arms. I shall do what I can for them.' And so he does, the inquiry being forwarded in each case through the kind offices of the American ambassador in Berlin.

"The labor entailed by this delicate and complicated task is both arduous and exacting, but no work in Madrid is more eagerly or conscientiously performed. The care which Senor de Torres has bestowed upon the minutest details of the organization, the great tact with which he has chosen the form of words to be employed in each individual case, proclaim at every stage that this is truly a labor of love; and the king's personal attention and the gentle influence of Queen Victoria are apparent at every stage of the operations."

CHARITY WORKERS ATTACK "BOOZE"

UNUSUAL CHARGES AT NATIONAL CONFERENCE

HEAD N. Y. HEALTH BUREAU LEADS OUT

Use of Alcohol Moderately or Immoderately, Shown to Affect Charities and Corrections

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 15.—Alcohol was described as a "depressing, habit-forming drug," causing easily recognized diseases of the brain, nerves and special senses, by Dr. Haven Emerson, health commissioner of New York City, in an address before the National Conference of Charities and Correction here today.

He advocated the use of the police power of the state to curb the rum demon. Dr. Emerson said:

"When alcohol is used so moderately as to cause none of the special diseases due solely to its effects, it is known to damage the unborn babe. Alcohol can be used as a food but at a cost both economical and physiological, which causes bankruptcy of pocket and health. In a few diseased conditions, it has been found useful but not indispensable.

"If a flagon of alcohol were offered to a student of pharmacology to test as a curiosity, and he applied the standard methods of physiological experiment to it, he could not but come to the conclusion that he was dealing with a more dangerous chemical than any now available in the whole range of materia medica, not second to opium or its derivatives as a destroyer of tissue, and he would be quite justified in advising the prohibition of its manufacture and use."

Mrs. Elizabeth D. Tilton of Boston, Mass., said:

"What makes men stop drinking—that is the question. If you study the large declines in various drink-consumption tables, you find that they usually work back to two things—education and forms of prohibition, making liquor harder to get.

"This is true of Sweden, Norway and of the United States. Indeed, from 1825 to 1850 our country was a leader in what the Swedes call 'that great battle for the race—hygiene, the battle against drink,' as at that time the leading men were forcing on the country a belief in total abstinence supplemented by a wide no-license or 'dry' movement. Under this state of mind our drink consumption dropped vigorously.

Civil War Broke Movement.

"But the Civil war carried off this state of mind. Our tired-out fathers said, 'Really total abstinence and prohibition go too far. Alcohol is all right unless you take too much of it. Temperance is the thing and, in big cities, license.'

"This state of mind does not bring consumption down. It brings it up. Note, for example, that, whereas our per capita consumption fell, under the total abstinence and prohibition state of mind, from eight and one-half gallons in 1810 to 4.08 in 1850, under the temperance license state of mind it rose from 4.08 (1850) to 22.79 (1907). Since then it has stopped rising. Why?

"Irving Fisher says, 'Because we are (again) beginning to harken to the message of race hygiene. He is right.'"

Dr. I. M. Rubinow, executive secretary of the Social Insurance committee, American Medical association, said:

"Health insurance is the most important constructive proposal in social legislation before the American people today. Statistics of morbidity indicates the occurrence among the wage workers of the United States of perhaps ten million cases of illness a year, of which two and a half million cases last four weeks or over and cause serious economic distress for as many families. European experience points to compulsory insurance as the only effective method of counteracting the pauperizing effect of this amount of illness. Ten countries in Europe have compulsory health insurance at present."

POOR CORN, POOR HOGS

J. M. Carter Says Unmatured Feed Fails to Help Weight

"Corn grown in my vicinity last season did not mature well and as a result hogs fed that corn did not put on weight very fast," said J. M. Carter, a successful stockman and feeder of Skidmore, Mo., who was in today with a load of cattle and hogs of his own feeding. "Even if the hogs did not put on weight fast, they have been doing very well. They all seem to be healthy. The pig crop will not be quite as large as usual."—St. Joseph Stock Yards Journal.

COLORED FILM TONIGHT

"The Beloved Vagabond" in Pathe Natural Tints Has Been Very Popular Everywhere

Another chance to see the Pathe colored films will be offered tonight at the Fern Theatre in "The Beloved Vagabond." The film is brought here through the auspices of the Union of Young People's Societies, whose interest in the matter is in seeing a better type of film shown in Maryville.

The story of "The Beloved Vagabond" is: When Gaston De Nerac was awarded the highest honor the French Academy can bestow on an architect, he returned to England, there to arrange the details of his marriage to his cousin, Joanna Rushworth.

To save Joanna's father from financial ruin, Gaston borrows a sum of money from another of Joanna's admirers, the stipulation being that he shall not communicate in any way with Joanna for two years. The scheming lender leads Joanna to believe that her love has been bartered for dollars.

She marries him, and Gaston, believing the one perfect creature in the world to have been fickle, gives up everything he holds dearest—art, friends and future—and asuming the name of Paragot, goes forth into the world a cynic, to bury with the past all his hopes for the future.

Follows a period of absinthe and recklessness, until he meets Augustus Smith, a lad of fifteen, to whom he takes a liking, because, forsooth, the boy reads "Paradise Lost"; and together they start on a vagabond wandering in which many strange things come to pass.

But years have separated these two, and they find, after their formal engagement, that it's no go. Paragot goes forth broken hearted, only to realize, when he gets home, a certain something that startled him—for he finds in a cottage that which he lost in a mansion.

Because of a mistake in shipment two reels have been received by the Fern Theatre today. A double bill, therefore, will be given, with "Simon the Jester" given first and "The Beloved Vagabond" second. This will make ten full reels of pictures.

Mrs. D. A. Curry, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. I. Bergen, at Burlington Junction, was here today en route to her home in Conway, Ia.

Mr. and Mrs. Elihu Busby went to Hopkins today, called there by the death of the former's nephew, Harry Wells.

WOMEN who do their own work usually find it hard to keep their hands soft and white. The reason is, they use ordinary yellow soap which almost always contains free alkali and other harsh materials.

As soon as women begin to use Ivory Soap, not only for bath and toilet but for fine laundry work, dishes, woodwork, windows and general cleaning, they no longer are troubled with unsightly, smarting hands.

"OLD KENTUCKY" TASTES LIKE RIPE FRUIT

Its Delicious Flavor Has Never Been Equalled in Any Other Chew

50 YEARS THE FAVORITE

There is more flavor and real tobacco satisfaction in a plug chew than in any other form of tobacco. And Old Kentucky has a flavor all its own—peculiarly mellow, sweet and fruity.

For 50 years Old Kentucky has pleased the most critical tobacco users in America.

Old Kentucky is made of choice, perfect Burley leaf, sun-ripened, full-flavored, hand-stemmed, thoroughly cleansed and pressed into plugs by a process which saves every drop of its tasty, wholesome, beneficial juices.

Old Kentucky will please your taste and quicken your appetite. Get a 10c plug from your dealer today—you'll always be glad you got acquainted with it.

SANG DUETS WITH HERSELF

Even Minute Changes in Marie Kaiser's Voice Were Reproduced

It is still a novelty to hear an artist sing with herself, and so doubtless it was curiosity partly that filled the Grand Avenue Temple last night for the concert by Marie Kaiser of New York. But those who came to gratify curiosity remained to admire and enjoy. The records were hardly less beautiful than the actual voice of the singer and hardly distinguishable from it.

The concert was given under the auspices of the Edison Talking Machine company. Record after record was played while Miss Kaiser, in a pretty frock of green and gold, stood smilingly beside the box of mysteries and mingled her own silvery tones with those she had sung months ago. It would be uncanny if it weren't becoming so common.

Miss Kaiser's high notes are very light and buoyant, free and sweet and pure, but the color invariably changes in the descent into the middle register. For some reason that should make the Edison instrument as valuable to the singer as a magnifying glass is to a beautiful woman, the slight change in color—in reality a dimming of the voice, changing its pellucid brightness to leaden gray, is emphasized in the reproduction.—Kansas City Star.

O SPHINX AND MIRTH MUSE

Conception College Captain Takes Exception to Normal Version of Recent 5-2 Defeat

F. J. Werthmann, captain of the Conception College baseball team, writes to take exception to the Bearcat version of the game. According to his account, everything in the 5-2 battle last Monday was on the square and the student umpire has always given good satisfaction before.

Mr. Werthmann "P. S.'s" that this is absolutely Conception's last word in the matter. They charge that the Normal players made concerted rushes upon the umpire to influence his decisions while Hickman, the catcher, persistently interfered with the batters. The article is too long for publication but a sample of the style of the reply is given:

"The Bearcats have given their version of the Conception game and why should not the Conceptionists be given a hearing? The muse of mirth must have indulged in a huge chuckle at the Bearcats' version of the recent baseball game between the State Normal and Conception college. It was laughable; in fact, the colored imagination of peeved players produced an account that would woo a smile to the face of the grand sphinx had not that worthy long since foresworn communion with the ridiculous."

STANDARD PRICES AID COMPETITION

The Stephens Bill Encourages Rivalry in Quality.

REAL BENEFIT TO PUBLIC.

False Pretense In Merchandising as Practiced by Big City Stores Is Method Used to Injure Small Dealers and to Destroy Small Towns—Dishonesty Can't Benefit Consumers.

The true competition is between rival articles, a competition in excellence, which can never be maintained if, through the perfidy of the retailer who cuts prices for his own ulterior purposes, the manufacturer is forced to compete in prices with goods of his own production, while the retailer recoups his losses on the cut price by the sale of other articles at, or above, their reasonable price. IT IS A FALLACY TO ASSUME THAT THE PRICE CUTTER POCKETS THE LOSS. THE PUBLIC MAKES IT UP ON OTHER PURCHASES. Fixing the price on all brands of high grade flour is a very different thing from fixing the price on one brand of high grade flour. The one means destruction of all competition and of all incentive to increased excellence. The other means heightened competition and intensified incentive to increased excellence.

This language, used by the supreme court of the state of Washington in a unanimous decision of the case of the Fisher Flouring Mills Co. versus C. A. Swanson, clearly sets forth the interest the consumer has in maintaining the highest form of competition—that of quality. Competition in price results in inferior quality and the evil of substitution. Dishonest advertisers use cut prices on standard and widely known merchandise to lure customers into their establishments, where an effort will be made to sell anonymous goods.

The genuine bargain is used as "bait" to spread the impression that all merchandise is sold at the same low margin of profit. If this impression can be created the cut rate merchant can sell unknown goods at as high a figure as his conscience will permit him to charge—and his conscience is elastic. Nearly every man's is more or less so where profits are concerned.

A Bill to Protect the Public.

Representative Dan V. Stephens of Nebraska and Senator William F. Ashurst of Arizona have introduced in congress "a bill to protect the public against dishonest advertising and false pretenses in merchandising." A similar measure was introduced in the last congress by Representative Stevens of New Hampshire.

It ought to be axiomatic that the public cannot profit through dishonesty or through false pretenses. The individual may make a pecuniary gain; thieves, burglars and confidence men occasionally escape paying the penalty of their crimes and are pecuniarily better off. But the public, the victims of the successful criminals, loses.

The Stephens-Ashurst bill provides for standard and uniform prices on articles sold under a trademark or special brand, with the widest possible publicity for buyers and sellers. Opponents of the bill—adherents of dishonest advertising and users of false pretenses in merchandising—have declared that it will encourage monopoly and prevent competition. They have tried to make consumers believe that it will increase the cost of living, that it will raise the price of everything sold in any sort of store.

No Monopoly Possible.

The bill does not encourage monopoly, because producers who have a monopoly of any particular line or who make an agreement with a competitor to maintain prices are barred from taking advantage of the privilege of preventing discrimination by contracting for the resale of their goods at uniform prices. A monopoly, no matter how it is gained, cannot do business under the terms of the Stephens bill.

On the other hand, cutthroat competition in price has always been the chief weapon of monopoly.

The bill will not raise prices and increase the cost of living. Producers already have the right to sell their goods at wholesale at any price they can get, at what they are worth. The proposed legislation merely permits the producer to control the retail price, and if he puts this too high—higher than the public is willing to pay—then his goods will not be sold and he loses.

The cut price storekeeper that sells goods at a loss does not stand the loss; he passes it on to his customers. What he loses on one article is made up, or more than made up, on another. The use of cut prices on standard articles for the purpose of drawing customers into the store with the intention of selling them something else, that is where "dishonest advertising" is found and where "false pretenses in merchandising" injures the public.

Cut rates by big department stores enable them to kill off the small store and the small towns. Those residents of rural communities, villages and the lesser cities who want to see their home folks injured that the large cities may grow richer and larger should naturally oppose the Stephens bill. Those who desire to see their own vicissitudes prosper should support the principle of uniform standard prices.

SWAT ROOSTER MAY 20

EGGS WILL BRING BETTER PRICE IF INFERTILE

State Poultry Department Urges Placing of Pure Bred Male Bird in Separate Pen

"Swat the Rooster" on May 20 and sell infertile eggs during the summer. It insures greater profits to the producer, the dealer can handle them on a smaller margin, and the consumer gets better eggs to use, which increases the demand.

The presence of male birds in the flock does not increase egg production, but from two to three per cent of the females are injured by the males, which lowers the egg yield from the entire flock.

Feeding the male birds after the breeding season is a useless expense. Many produce dealers pay more for roosters on "Swat the Rooster Day" in order to encourage their sale.

If an egg contains the fertilizing germ, proper heat is the principal factor which will cause the germ to grow. The summer temperature will cause the germ to develop and if it is chilled or killed in any way, it is the point where decomposition begins. If there is no germ in the egg there is no point for decomposition to set in except from an outside source. Therefore, infertile eggs are more satisfactory for all concerned.

It should not be understood that infertile eggs should be kept longer or cared for improperly for that would mean no improvement over old methods. Infertile eggs should be marketed just as often and cared for just as carefully as fertile eggs, which will insure an improved product for the market.

All eggs should be sold on the loss-off basis; i. e., all eggs should be candled and only the good eggs paid for. It will be seen that ten dozen infertile eggs, all good, will bring more money than twelve dozen fertile eggs if three dozen are candled out, being bad.

If you have a valuable male bird which has proven to be a good breeder don't sell him, but place him in a pen with half a dozen of the best hens and late hatching may be done from this pen.

Hens should not be permitted to remain broody any length of time unless they are permitted to incubate some eggs. The longer a hen is permitted to sit, the longer it will take her to begin laying again after being in a broody condition. A good sized coop for breaking hens is illustrated in our Swat the Rooster Bulletin which is free to residents of the state who ask for it. In writing for bulletins or information, be sure to sign name and address plainly.

The Missouri State Poultry Experiment station located at Mountain Grove, Mo., was established for the purpose of finding out the things about poultry we don't know, then giving this information to the public through the press, in bulletins, lectures, correspondence, etc.

Work of Poultry Station

The work of the station is to conduct experiments, make tests, observations, etc., for the benefit of the residents of Missouri. The establishment of this station is a point of economy as is the case with all experiment stations. For example, if 5,000 people want to know the results of some one experiment, it is more economical and more satisfactory to have it done where they have proper equipment and where people devote their entire time to the work, than for each of the 5,000 individuals to conduct the experiment separately, for this would mean 5,000 separate experiments, which would be very expensive in many cases, and the results would not be as dependable as where men devote their entire time to conducting the experiments.

Missouri is perhaps as liberal as any other state in the support of its Poultry Experiment station, yet one egg per year at market price for each person in Missouri will more than support the institution. Every resident of Missouri not only has the right, but is cordially invited to send his poultry problems here for solution. If there is any question concerning poultry you would like to have answered, if there is any experiment you would like to see conducted, write it out and send it to the Poultry Experiment station. We may not be able to answer your questions at once, but are just as glad to get a question we cannot answer as to get one we can answer, for that gives us something to work on. It is not necessary for the question to be some deep problem under some big name for some of the small problems are just as interesting and instructive. For example, the question was asked how to boil an egg so it would peel smoothly. Through experimental work it was found that an egg less than forty-eight hours old would not peel well, while eggs more than forty-eight hours old would peel nicely. Taking them out of the boiling water into cold water assists some.

Every resident in Missouri should feel an interest in the experiment station, and feel free to write for any information or advice needed.

Advertising and Ethics

Advertising is a factor of constantly increasing power in modern business; and it affects the public very vitally. The agencies for the dissemination of advertising have increased remarkably. The use of advertising from sporadic efforts has developed into sustained and carefully directed campaigns. Luxuries, through insistent suggestion, become the necessities of a nation.

This Article—one of a series to Advertise Advertising, by the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World (headquarters Indianapolis)—was written by

HON. JOSEPH E. DAVIES,
Chairman, Federal Trade Commission,

who further says:—
"The Associated Advertising Clubs of the World are to be congratulated upon the splendid manner in which they are seeking to build up business ethics from within."

Advertising has wrought and will continue to create miracles in public opinion. It has become a matter of paramount importance to all phases of industry, from the processes of extraction of the raw material to the final distribution of the finished product; and it has become no less a matter of very serious concern to the public.

For business men, therefore, to consciously seek to establish and enforce a code of ethics, based on truth, that shall govern advertising, methods, and effects is splendidly significant. It augurs permanence and stability in industrial and distribution methods because it is good business judgment; and, more than that, it indicates a fine conception of public obligation on the part of men in business, which is one of the inspiring things in our outlook upon the future of national conditions and institutions.
